

Improving Population Health through Interprofessional Education (IPE) and Collaboration

Elaine T. Jurkowski, MSW, PhD
Professor, School of Social Work,
Adjunct Professor, School of Medicine
Southern Illinois University Carbondale

December 14, 2017

This work is funded through HRSA Grant #U1QHP28730.

Challenges for Primary Care Providers and the Workforce

Interprofessional Core Competencies for Collaborative Practice

OBJECTIVE:

To promote communication across and help each discipline understand the roles played in promoting health and health outcomes for older adults.

Teaching Strategies

Problem Based Learning Approach

Case Studies

Panel discussions

Student/Learners attending 5 educational sessions over the past 1<sup>1/2</sup> years

Discipline	IPE Attendees	%	Team Leaders	%
PA students	75	42%	33	19%
Physician Residents	41	23%	47	26%
Medical students	20	11%	14	8%
Social Work students	28	16%	14	8%
Psychology students	2	1%	--	--
Public Health	2	1%	4	2%
Not identified	10	6%	66	37%
Total	178	100%	178	100%

Why is this important?

Contact Information:

- Dr. Elaine T. Jurkowski
  - etjurkow@siu.edu
  - 618-453-2243
  - Resource materials can be found at :

www.catch-on.org