New for Fall 2016:

Effective fall 2016 the Graduate School will be offering a High Achiever Alternate Tuition Rate to all new, first-time, non-resident graduate students who demonstrate high academic achievement on the GRE exam. Eligible students will pay an alternate tuition rate of 1.0 time the current in-state graduate tuition rate. Current/previous students are not eligible to receive the high achiever rate. Students in Professional Schools or the Physician Assistant program are not eligible to receive the high achiever rate.

The definition of high academic achievement on the GRE exam is a GRE score of 80% or higher on either the verbal or quantitative sections of the exam.

An official GRE score must be received at the time of admission in order to apply for the high achiever rate. Photocopies of GRE scores are not acceptable. Students must meet all other minimum requirements for admission and must be recommended for admission by their department.

Students will apply and go through the admission process as usual. Applicants who are eligible to apply for the high achiever rate need to have their official GRE score sent directly to their department. If the student is offered admission, departments will need to forward the official GRE score - along with all other admission documents - to their Admission Representative in the Graduate School.
